INTRODUCTION

1. This action is brought by the Plaintiff FENG CAI WANG, on behalf of herself as well as other employees similarly situated, against the Defendants for alleged violations of the Fair Labor Standards Act, (FLSA) 29 U.S.C. § 201 et seq. and New York Labor Law (NYLL), arising from Defendants' various willfully and unlawful employment policies, patterns and practices.

2. Upon information and belief, Defendants have willfully and intentionally committed widespread violations of the FLSA and NYLL by engaging in pattern and practice of failing to pay its employees, including Plaintiff, minimum wage for each hour worked and overtime compensation for all hours worked over forty (40) each workweek.

3. Plaintiff alleges pursuant to the FLSA, that she is entitled to recover from the Defendants: (1) unpaid overtime wages, (2) liquidated damages, (3) prejudgment and post-judgement interest; and or (4) attorney's fees and costs.

4. Plaintiff further alleges pursuant to NYLL § 650 et seq. and 12 New York Codes, Rules and Regulations § 146 (NYCRR) that she is entitled to recover from the Defendants: (1) unpaid minimum wage compensation and unpaid overtime compensation, (2) unpaid spread-of-hours premium, (3) up to five thousand dollars ($5,000) per Plaintiff for Defendants' failure to provide a Time of Hire Notice detailing rates of pay and payday, (4) up to five thousand dollars ($5,000) per Plaintiff for Defendants' failure to provide a paystub that accurately and truthfully lists employee's hours along with the employee's name, employer's name, employer's address and telephone number, employee's rate or rates of pay, any deductions made from employee's wages, any allowances claimed as part of the minimum wage, and the employee's gross and net wages for each pay day, (5) liquidated damages equal to the sum of unpaid minimum wage, unpaid "spread of hours" premium, unpaid overtime in the amount of twenty five percent under NYLL § 190 et seq., § 650 et seq., and one hundred percent after April 9, 2011 under NY Wage Theft Prevention Act, (6) 9% simple prejudgment interest provided by NYLL, (7) post-judgment interest, and (8) attorney's fees and costs.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

Defendants Constitute an Enterprise

27. Upon information and belief, Corporate Defendants YOU GARDEN DUMPLING INC d/b/a Shanghai You Garden; YOU GARDEN XIAO LONG BAO INC d/b/a Shanghai You Garden; GOLDEN ROAST, INC. d/b/a Corner 28 are joint employers of Plaintiff and constitute an enterprise as the term is defined by 29 USC §203(r) insofar as they share staff:

- a. including Plaintiff, between the three stores, dispatching Plaintiff specifically from the Flushing You Garden to the Bayside You Garden;
- b. Share the entirety of outdoor dining storefront of Corner 28 with You Garden's Flushing location for You Garden customers;
- c. pay Plaintiff for the work performed at the enterprise no matter what location she worked;

- d. advertise the Corporate Defendants as an enterprise, with plastic bags printed You Garden on the front and Corner 28 on the back to be distributed to customers at both locations and;
- e. are otherwise engaged in related activities performed through unified operation and/or common control for a common business purpose, and are co-owned by the same partners.

28. As an enterprise, Corporate Defendants are employers under the FLSA because they engaged in interstate commerce, including the importation of materials from outside of New York State, and their gross revenue well exceed $500,000.00 a year.

29. At all relevant times, the work performed by Plaintiff was directly essential to the business operated by YOU GARDEN DUMPLING INC d/b/a Shanghai You Garden; YOU GARDEN XIAO LONG BAO INC d/b/a Shanghai You Garden; GOLDEN ROAST, INC. d/b/a Corner 28.

Wage and Hour Claims

30. As You Garden is one of the most popular destinations for Shanghainese cuisine in the Flushing area, often drawing customers from out of the city and out of the state, there are at least 30 employees at the restaurant at any one time.

31. In addition, with Corner 28 and You Garden Bayside, there are at least 50 employees at any one time.

32. Defendants committed the following alleged acts knowingly, intentionally and willfully against the Plaintiff, the FLSA Collective Plaintiffs, and the Class.

33. At all relevant times, Defendants knowingly and willfully failed to pay Plaintiff her lawful overtime compensation of one and one-half times (1.5x) their regular rate of pay for all hours worked over forty (40) in a given workweek.

34. While employed by Defendants, Plaintiff was not exempt under federal and state laws requiring employers to pay employees overtime.

35. Defendants failed to keep full and accurate records of Plaintiff's hours and wages.

36. Upon information and belief, Defendants failed to keep full and accurate records in order to mitigate liability for their wage violations. Defendants never furnished any notice of their use of tip credit.

37. At all relevant times, Defendants knowingly and willfully failed to provide Plaintiff and similarly situated employees with Time of Hire Notice reflecting true rates of pay and payday as well as paystub that lists employee's name, employer's name, employer's address and telephone number, employee's rate or rates of pay, any deductions made from employee's wages, any allowances claimed as part of the minimum wage, and the employee's gross and net wages for each pay day.

38. Defendants knew that the nonpayment of overtime pay and New York's "spread of hours" premium for every day in which Plaintiff worked over ten (10) hours would financially injure Plaintiff and similarly situated employees and violate state and federal laws.

39. Defendants did not post the required New York State Department of Labor posters regarding minimum wage pay rates, overtime pay, tip credit, and pay day.

Plaintiff FENG CAI WANG

40. From in or around July 2017 to December 04, 2019, Plaintiff FENG CAI WANG was employed by Defendants to work as a Pastry Worker at:

41. Plaintiff worked continuously for Defendants from July 2017 to December 04, 2019, with the following two exceptions:

- a. Plaintiff FENG CAI WANG returned to China in or around March 2018 through May 20, 2018 for two and a half (2.5) months.
- b. Plaintiff FENG CAI WANG was also in China from roughly January 25, 2019 to March 10, 2019.
- c. Plaintiff FENG CAI WANG returned to work at You Garden on June 02, 2019.

42. Plaintiff FENG CAI WANG worked at both You Garden locations: from in or around July 2017 to August 2019, Plaintiff FENG CAI WANG worked at You Garden's Flushing location at 135-33 40th Road, Flushing, NY 11354.

43. From September 2019 to December 04, 2019, Plaintiff FENG CAI WANG worked at You Garden's Bayside location at 41-07 Bell Blvd, Bayside, NY 11361.

44. From in or around July 2017 to August 2019, while working for Shanghai You Garden at 135-33 40th Road, Flushing, NY 11354, Plaintiff FENG CAI WANG worked "middle shift" and "late shift" weeks.

- a. for "middle shift" weeks, 09:30 to 20:30 for eleven (11) hours a day, six (6) days a week;

- b. for "late shift" weeks 11:00 to 22:00 for eleven (11) hours a day, six (6) days a week for a total of sixty-six (66) hours each week.

48. Plaintiff FENG CAI WANG's regular work schedule ran from 08:30 to 19:30 for eleven (11) hours a day, six (6) days a week; for sixty six (66) hours a week.

49. At all relevant times, Plaintiff FENG CAI WANG did not have a fixed time for lunch or for dinner.

50. In fact, Plaintiff FENG CAI WANG had 15-20 minutes to eat lunch and 5 minutes to eat breakfast and even then she was on call, meaning that if customer's order came, her break stopped and she had to keep making pastry.

51. From on or about July 01, 2017 to September 30, 2017, Plaintiff FENG CAI WANG was paid a flat compensation at a rate of two thousand six hundred dollars ($2600.00) per month.

52. Specifically, Plaintiff FENG CAI WANG would pay her monthly rate on a weekly or biweekly basis.

53. The monthly pay would be divided by 26 days and multiplied by 6 days (which she worked for a week), and that would be the weekly pay that was paid to Plaintiff in check and in cash.

Throughout her employment, Plaintiff FENG CAI WANG was not given a statement with her weekly payment reflecting employee's name, employer's name, employer's address and telephone number, employee's rate or rates of pay, any deductions made from employee's wages, any allowances claimed as part of the minimum wage, and the employee's gross and net wages for each pay day in Chinese, Plaintiff's native language.

63. On December 4, 2019, Plaintiff was hurt on the job and had to stay in the hospital with bedrest.

64. Plaintiff was paid for two (2) months of salary and then was terminated as of January 16, 2020.

COLLECTIVE ACTION ALLEGATIONS

65. Plaintiff brings this action individually and as class representative individually and on behalf of all other and former non-exempt employees who have been or were employed by the Defendants for up to the last three (3) years, through entry of judgment in this case (the “Collective Action Period”) and whom were not compensated at one and one half times their promised work for all hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours per week (the “Collective Action Members”).

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

66. Plaintiff brings her NYLL claims pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure (“Fed. R. Civ. P.”) Rule 23, on behalf of all non-exempt personnel employed by Defendants on or after the date that is six years before the filing of the Complaint in this case as defined herein (the “Class Period”).

67. All said persons, including Plaintiff, are referred to herein as the “Class.”

68. The Class members are readily ascertainable. The number and identity of the Class members are determinable from the records of Defendants. The hours assigned and worked, the positions held, and the rate of pay for each Class Member is also determinable from Defendants’ records. For purpose of notice and other purposes related to this action, their names and addresses are readily available from Defendants. Notice can be provided by means permissible under said Fed. R. Civ. P. 23.

Numerosity

69. The proposed Class is so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable, and the disposition of their claims as a class will benefit the parties and the Court. Although the precise number of such persons is unknown, and the facts on which the calculation of the number is presently within the sole control of the Defendants, upon information and belief, there are more than forty (40) members of the class.

Commonality

70. There are questions of law and fact common to the Class which predominate over any questions affecting only individual class members, including:

- a. Whether Defendant employed Plaintiff and the Class within the meaning of the New York law;
- b. Whether Plaintiff and Class members are not paid at least the hourly minimum wage for each hour worked;
- c. Whether Plaintiff and Class members are entitled to and paid overtime at their promised hourly wage under the New York Labor Law;
- d. Whether Defendants maintained a policy, pattern and/or practice of failing to pay Plaintiff and the Rule 23 Class spread-of-hours pay as required by the NYLL;
- e. Whether Defendants maintained a policy, pattern and/or practice of failing to provide requisite statutory meal periods;
- f. Whether Defendants provided a Time of Hire Notice detailing rates of pay and payday at the start of Plaintiff and the Rule 23 Class's start of employment and/or timely thereafter;
- g. Whether Defendants provided paystubs detailing the rates of pay and credits taken towards the minimum wage to Plaintiff and the Rule 23 class on each payday; and

h. At what common rate, or rates subject to common method of calculation was and is Defendants required to pay the Class members for their work.

Typicality

71. Plaintiff's claims are typical of those claims which could be alleged by any member of the Class, and the relief sought is typical of the relief that would be sought by each member of the Class in separate actions. All the Class members were subject to the same corporate practices of Defendants, as alleged herein, of failing to pay minimum wage or overtime compensation. Defendants' corporate-wide policies and practices affected all Class members similarly, and Defendants benefitted from the same type of unfair and/or wrongful acts as to each Class member. Plaintiff and other Class members sustained similar losses, injuries and damages arising from the same unlawful policies, practices and procedures.

Adequacy

72. Plaintiff is able to fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Class and have no interests antagonistic to the Class. Plaintiff is represented by attorneys who are experienced and competent in representing Plaintiffs in both class action and wage-and-hour employment litigation cases.

Superiority

73. A class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy, particularly in the context of wage-and-hour litigation where individual Class members lack the financial resources to vigorously prosecute a lawsuit against corporate defendants. Class action treatment will permit a large number of similarly situated persons to prosecute their common claims in a single forum simultaneously, efficiently and without the unnecessary duplication of efforts and expenses that numerous individual actions engender. Because the losses, injuries and damages suffered by each of the individual Class members are small in the sense pertinent to a class action analysis, the expenses and burden of individual litigation would make it extremely difficult or impossible for the individual Class members to redress the wrongs done to them. Further, important public interests will be served by addressing the matter as a class action. The adjudication of individual litigation claims would result in a great expenditure of Court and public resources; however, treating the claims as a class action would result in a significant saving of these costs. The prosecution of separate actions by individual members of the Class would create a risk of inconsistent and/or varying adjudications with respect to the individual members of the Class, establishing incompatible standards of conduct for Defendants and resulting in the impairment of Class members' rights and the disposition of their interests through actions to which they were not parties. The issues in this action can be decided by means of common, class-wide proof. In addition, if appropriate, the Court can, and is empowered to, fashion methods to efficiently manage this action as a class action.

74. Upon information and belief, Defendants and other employers throughout the state violate the New York Labor Law. Current employees are often afraid to assert their rights out of fear of direct or indirect retaliation. Former employees are fearful of bringing claims because doing so can harm their employment, future employment, and future efforts to secure employment. Class actions provide class members who are not named in the complaint a degree of anonymity which allows for the vindication of their rights while eliminating or reducing these risks.
